

Hi sayang,

I may or may not know what you're going through at the moment but for you to feel this way, it has to be something bad. Not one bad thing but a whole entire list of them. I'm sorry that things aren't going your way, sayang. Whatever it is that you're feeling, I understand. You're going to make it out of this, trust me. I won't sugarcoat anything and say that everything's alright because if you're feeling this way then it just means that it isn't. Either way, I want you to know that I'm always here for you. I'm never going away.

Even if you don't feel like telling me what's wrong, talk to me like everything's alright and I'll try my best to take your mind off it. I'm here to pick up the pieces of you that fall apart after all, right? So don't worry about thinking that you're burdening me with your problems when listening to them is all I want. Pass on the weight on your shoulders to me and let me take it from there.

It's okay to cry on my shoulder if that's what you feel like doing. It's okay to scream in my ear if that's how you could ease your mind. It's okay to use me as a punching bag if that's how you could release your anger. Use me. Remember, I'm here for you. So use me to your advantage. I want to be there for you even when you're not at your best. I want to help. So use me. It is my duty to make you feel okay, after all.

I love you so much sayang. The storm will pass. I promise. Even if it feels like it wouldn't, it very much will. So lay all your problems on me and get through it together, okay? You're not alone in this. You never are. Heads up sayang.
